International Journal of Fracture

CONTENTS OF VOLUME 69 (1994/1995)

Vol. 69, No. 1, 1994/1995

Analytical solutions of fully plastic crack-tip higher order fields under antiplane shear	F.G. YUAN and S. YANG	1–26
Strength characteristics and fatigue crack growth in a composite with long aligned fibers	J. BOTSIS and C. BELDICA	27–50
Deformation and fracture of Macadamia nuts. Part 1: Deformation analysis of nut-in-shell	CHUN-HUI WANG, LIANGCHI ZHANG and YIU-WING MAI	51–65
Deformation and fracture of Macadamia nuts. Part 2: Microstructure and fracture mechanics analysis of nutshell	CHUN-HUI WANG and YIU-WING MAI	67–85
On the dynamic crack propagation in an interface with spatially varying elastic properties	X.D. WANG and S.A. MEGUID	87–99

Vol. 69, No. 2, 1994/1995

Cohesive crack models for semi-brittle materials derived from localization of damage coupled to plasticity	RAGNAR LARSSON and KENNETH RUNESSON	101–122
Investigations of fracture instability in crack growth for several metals – Part I: Experimental results	X.C. YIN and X.H. LIU	123–143
Residual/thermal stresses in FGM and laminated thermal barrier coatings	Y.-D. LEE and F. ERDOGAN	145–165
Elastoplastic crack analysis for pressure-sensitive dilatant materials – Part II: Interface cracks	HUANG YUAN	167–187
An integral representation of the stress intensity factors for three-dimensional static problems	XIAOYUAN DONG	189–199

Vol. 69, No. 3, 1994/1995

Macroscopic fracture characteristics of random particle systems	M. JIRÁSEK and Z.P. BAŽANT	201–228
Three-dimensional fracture analysis of CT specimens with a ductile damage model based on endochronic plasticity theory	C.L. CHOW and X.F. CHEN	229–249
Study of the load-separation principle and a procedure to estimate η_p-factor for structures with different geometries	S. HAO, J.D. LANDES, A. CORNEC and K.-H. SCHWALBE	251–267
Large strain field near an interface crack tip	Y.C. GAO and Z.F. SHI	269–279

Vol. 69, No. 4

Fracture analysis of base-edge-cracked reverse-tapered plates	J.P. DEMPSEY, R.M. ADAMSON and S.J. DEFRANCO	281–294
Dislocation nucleation and emission from crack tip	T.C. WANG	295–306
Interaction of a dislocation with a surface crack in nonlocal elasticity	KE-LIN PAN	307–318
Elastodynamic stress-intensity factors for a semi-infinite crack under 3-D combined mode loading	LI XIANG PING and LIU CHUN TU	319–339
The effects of constraint on crack tip fields and fracture toughness	FASHANG MA	341–355
Initiation of parallel cracks from surface of elastic half-plane	YUAN N. LI, ANN P. HONG and ZDENĚK P. BAŽANT	357–369
The fracture mechanics of slow crack growth in polyethylene	N. BROWN and X. LU	371–377
